Senior Prom To Be Held Tonight At 9

Bringing to a close Senior Week, the Senior Prom will be held at the Vesper Country Club tonight at 9:00. With Bucky Flynn and his orchestra providing the type of music which created such a favorable impression at the Gav-Hawk Formal, the dance promises to be a fitting climax to the social activities of the Class of '41.

The Vesper Country Club is ideally located for an affair of this kind. Built upon an island in the Merimac River, the clubhouse lies in a picturesque rural setting.

Arrangements have been made with a new restaurant in Lowell to prepare for the merry-makers, so that all can be sure of prompt service for a snack

BEVERLY O'DONNELL WINS DRAMA AWARD

Beverly O'Donnell, Senior vice-president, has received a $150 scholarship to the famous Plymouth Drama School. She is one of forty of one-thousand applicants throughout the country to achieve this honor.

In her college career, Miss O'Donnell has been active in dramatic work. She had leading parts in "Daisy Mayme", and "Death Takes A Holiday", and played the role of Elizabeth Barrett in "The Barretts", all Teachers College productions that drew acclaim. The characterization which Miss O'Donnell gave

RALLIES IN EIGHTH TO BEAT ARCH-RIVAL

Coming from behind with a four-run rally in the eighth inning, the F.T.C. baseball nine downed the Bridgewater combine by a 5-4 score. Their first victory in two games, the contest was well played throughout.

Jim Delaney started on the mound for the Fitchburg team, holding the home team scoreless for five innings before they got to him for two runs in the sixth. Dick Kitchen yielded single runs in the seventh and eighth innings being relieved by Jack Phillips.

The Fitchburg team took full advantage of their hits, scoring

ASSEMBLY, PROM HEAD SENIOR WEEK PROGRAM

Senior Week, during which the class of '41 wore their caps and gowns, was observed this week, May 12-17.

The long-anticipated senior assembly was given on Tuesday morning under the direction of Beverly O'Donnell. A resume in verse of the four years of college life enjoyed by the present graduating class, written by Stuart Clemmer, and Ursula Mulcahy, was read by Bert Bennett. F.T.C.'s Ziegfeld girls', Hubert Edmond, James Brennan, Chet Smith, Gilbert Berry, and Paul Kirby entertained with a number done originally at the Carnival Dance. Sirkka Woris, Ursula

With the Alumni Reunion but a few weeks past, and with the time when their ranks are to be swelled by the Class of 1941 but a few weeks away, it seems an appropriate time to pay a little tribute to the Fitchburg Teachers College Alumni Association.

Probably never before has the Alumni Association been more active than it is at present. The officers now serving are doing more, it seems, than any of their predecessors to justify the continuance of this organization.

Chapters throughout New England, and parts of New York and New Jersey have held recent meetings which have been more than gratifying both from the standpoint of attendance and in accomplishments. They have attracted alumni from their respective sections into action in behalf of their Alma Mater.

Probably no better evidence of the new willingness and determination of the alumni to do something for the college can be cited than the recent Alumni assembly, when several members of this organization travelled hundreds of miles at their own expense to tell us undergraduates what Fitchburg has meant to them and how it has helped them. This program was enlightening not merely because of the facts revealed, but because of the Fitchburg loyalty and spirit it fostered.

In countless other ways the Alumni Association has gone and is continuing to do all it can in the interests of the college. It maintains a considerable fund from which needy and deserving students may borrow money at a ridiculously low interest rate to help them in meeting their expenses. At the recent reunion a drive was initiated to have Alumni contribute books to the college library to aid the school in raising its standards. These are but a few of the many projects which the Alumni supports for the betterment of their Alma Mater.

Senior Week is coming to a close tonight. As the Seniors prepare for their life as graduates of the college in the near future let them form a

The Ash Tray

Of course, my job's paintin', but, as a student of Fitchburg Teachers College, and a member of the 'Stick' staff, I would like to give a few opinions concerning our publication.

'The Stick' is primarily a democratic paper—that is, its aims and principles are democratic. Any student desiring to become a member of the staff has an equal opportunity to do so. The requirements are not strict, and nominees are selected on their merits. Those with outstanding ability along certain lines are often asked to join. The organization itself follows parliamentary procedure. There is no graft, and favoritism is limited by the heterogeneous make-up of the staff. It is the students' paper and tries at all times to uphold the students' interests.

Any young person who is interested in journalism, printing, or any other type of newspaper work may find golden opportunities in 'The Stick'. It is a wonderful experience, and you'll get as much out of it as you put in. To you who look with contempt on our little publication or laugh at some of our feeble attempts, remember that many a famous reporter or editor began his work on a similar publication. Our purpose isn't to supply the future field of journalism with Boake Carters and Lowell Thomases, but who knows? There may be latent powers of great potency among our humble staff.

However, there were two articles of late in 'The Stick' which caused me much concern. One was an editorial praising the council to high heaven and blasting those who were against it or even criticized it. In view of the fact that in the past anti-council articles have been sent to 'The Stick' and rejected, I feel that 'The Stick' was very undemocratic in publishing the above-mentioned editorial. If we wish to represent fairly the student-body, such biased propaganda must be dispensed with.

The second article which I refer to is the utterly inadequate, unworthy, and uncomplimentary write-up of the "Pirates of Penzance". Of course, out of necessity the article had to be written before the performance took place. It would have been much better if they had postponed publication of that article for a week.

Well, I could think of many more criticisms, and undoubtedly you could—especially regarding the 'Ash Tray' and 'Campus Charter'. All things taken under consideration, though, I think that we have a fine little paper. (Don't ask Dapper Dan what he thinks about it, will you?)

I must get back to my painting now.

firm determination to become active Alumni, to still further increase the rapid advances which the Association has made in the last few years. Then, more than ever, will membership in the Alumni Association of Fitchburg Teachers College mean more than just having graduated from the college.

COMMUTING MEN HOLD PICNIC AT WILLARD

Instead of having the annual installation banquet, the Commuting Men held a picnic last Wednesday at Willard Brook.

The highlight of the day was the awarding of the "One Who Has Done The Least Cup", borrowed from the W.A.A.'s office, to Ted Cote. This presentation was made on behalf of the board by Bill Cove. The whole body present cheered the selection and the dubious honor.

Hamburgs, hot dogs, ice cream and tonic; all you could eat, was served by the Faculty. A sports program and entertainment, ending with the Commuter's theme El Rancho Grande, brought a delightful day to a close.

SOPHS TO PICNIC AT SHIRLEY RESERVOIR

The Sophomore class completed their plans for their second annual class party to be held at the Shirley Reservoir, May 20.

A report of all committees for their party were read at the class meeting Monday. The sports committee assures keen competitive sports in swimming racing etc.

Charlie Dacey, the refreshment man, is promising us something unusual in the form of eats. He says to expect a lot of surprises and be prepared to eat.

Transportation facilities are to be provided for all. Classes are to be dismissed at 2:45 for the Sophomores, so be prompt and have an enjoyable time.

Alumni Notes

The Alumni Reunion at the Fitchburg Teachers College was held on Saturday afternoon, May 3rd, from 5 to 11 beginning with a social hour and ending with a dance. The entertainment part of the program consisted of four minute talks by members of classes celebrating special anniversaries:

10 Years Out—Mr. John C. O'Malley, Fitchburg

20 Years Out—Mrs. Francis L. Bushnell (Dorothy Clow), Keene, N. H.

25 Years Out—Mrs. David Colburn (Margaret Austin), Allendale, New Jersey

30 Years Out—Mayor Alice Burke (Alice Driscoll), Westfield, Mass.

40 Years Out—Miss Mary Davis, Clinton, Mass.

Mr. Arthur C. Harrington of the faculty, spoke in regard to former principal, John G. Thompson. The address of the evening was given by principal Margaret J. Davison of Springfield who is president of the Massachusetts Association of Elementary School Principals. Her subject was, "Making Good Citizens in 1941."

The board of directors elected to serve for the coming year are as follows:

President—A. Henry Ottoson

President Elect—Adele Driscoll

Representative—Jr. High School Course—Kenneth Bowen

Representative — Elementary Course—Marjorie Hutchinson

Representative—Industrial Arts Course—Deane Eldridge

Representative—Graduate Department—Irene Smith

Secretary and treasurer Miss Maud A. Goodfellow, and President Charles M. Herlihy.

In addition each of the forty-five graduating classes represented by a member of the Alumni Council.

Lieut. George Anderson and

ALUMNI RESPOND TO CALL FOR NEW BOOKS

The Alumni Association has been generously responding to an appeal for new books for our library. At its last meeting May 3, 1941, each member was presented with a newly designed Alumnus bookplate and a list of fifty needed books, for the purpose of making their selections most profitable. President A. Henry Ottoson enthusiastically promoted the idea and several books have already been donated.

THESPIANS IN OUTING AT COGSHALL PARK

Monday evening, May 19, is the date for the Dramatic Club picnic and final meeting, with details under the direction of Dorothy Hackett, retiring vice-president. The members will gather at Cogshall Park at five o'clock, and the festivities will close at 9.

Turo Halfors has charge of the supper arrangements; Wallace Cunningham will direct the newly elected members into the club; and Virginia Sullivan is chairman of the entertainment committee. Beverly O'Donnell, retiring president, will conduct the business meeting and induct the new officers into their respective offices: Richard Kelliher, president; Eileen O'Neil, vice-president; Jean Fitch, secretary; and Turo Halfors, treasurer.

his wife of the class of 1936, came the longest distance to the reunion, which is Virginia. Five were present from New Jersey, a number from Connecticut, and a large group from Fall River and New Bedford.

One of the former faculty members who was present said, "Not in a long time have I had so much pleasure as in this meeting of the Alumni Association."

'TELEGRAM' TELLS OF FACULTY COUNCIL

The college received wide publicity in the Worcester Telegram relative to the Faculty Council. This Council has been organized not only to advance the merit of the college itself but also to contribute to the civil life of the communities which it serves.

Members Speak Before Public

The council, now only in its second year, has already reconstructed the curricula in both the elementary and the junior high schools; during this school-year its members have made no less than 134 public appearances before organizations in no way connected with the college.

Mr Harrington Chairman

Dr. Herlihy led the formation of this group; Mr. Harrington is chairman of the council, besides being responsible for the student-faculty relations committee. The other faculty members who are serving as chairmen of standing committees are: Miss Nixon, community relations; Miss Gearan, alumni relations; Mr. Donoghue, faculty relations; and Mr. Holmes, chairman of the educational program.

This is the first teachers college in this state to organize such a group.

Senior Week

Mulcahy, Lillian Szocik, Dorothy Hackett, Eileen Connelly, and Onerva Heikkinen participated in the Cannibal Dance. Bert Bennett, then read the class will.

The assembly closed with the singing of the individual class songs and of the Alma Mater.

Tonight the senior prom is to be held at the Vesper Country Club just outside Lowell, with no less than an approximate eighty-five couples expected; the music is to be under the direction of Bucky Flynn of Lynn.

PERCIVAL RECOUNTS WAR EXPERIENCES

The Gaveleer Society presented a talk by Doctor Harry Percival last Thursday at 7:00 p.m. The subject he spoke upon was: The Diary of an American Soldier, 1917 and 1918. His talk was open to the school as a whole.

The story told was very interesting, because it proved to be the story of Dr. Percival's own experiences during the last war. By comparison, Doctor Percival showed how very much alike the situation before the last war is to the present situation.

in the last play made her good prospective material for admission for the Plymouth Colony. As a student in the Hazel Boone School of the Dance in Boston, she appeared in recitals at Jordan Hall and the Repertoire Theater. During the current year, Miss O'Donnell has served as president of the Teachers College Dramatic Club.

Many Graduates Famous

As a summer training base for the arts of the theatre and not a school where any interested person may enroll, the Colony can claim a very select group of young men and women. In its twentieth year, the alumni boasts of such celebrities as Adele Longmire, who played the part of Anne Rutledge in "Abe Lincoln in Illinois" and is in the Elmer Rice play "Two On An Island"; Charles Keenan, who starred in "Juno and the Paycock" with Barry Fitzgerald; Lee Parry, who was in the Broadway production of "The American Way", and other famous players.

In 1939, a similar award was granted to Miss Dorothy Sears of Chicopee Falls, then a junior at the Teachers College.

'STICK' STAFF HOLDS PARTY AT WHALOM

The 'Stick' staff held a successful banquet last Monday at the Whalom Women's Club. This annual event was well attended. Among the guests present were Dr. and Mrs. Herlihy, Mr. and Mrs. Hague, Miss Nixon, and Mr. Livermore.

G. Roger Pauze, editor-in-chief, spoke on the year's accomplishments of the college paper. Dr. Herlihy thanked the staff for the work they had done in the past year. Miss Nixon gave some helpful, constructive suggestions to the staff. Mr. Livermore and Mr. Hague traced the history of the 'Stick' from its early beginning. An interesting fact about the name of the paper was brought to light. It was derived from the "Hickory Stick", an earlier publication at F.T.C., and also pertains to the composing stick used in the printshop.

After dinner a varied program of entertainment was presented by members of the staff. Bill Cove acted as M.C., John Hoyer and Eino Hakala played the guitar and accordion. Charlie Dacey directed three short plays. The cast in the winning play consisted of Kit Carson and Norm Pope, with Dick Finn as dramatic critic. A quartet, consisting of Dick L'Ecuier, Norm Pope, Bill Cove and Joe Govoni sang "South of the Border". It should have been sung there. The program ended with general dancing.

Committees making this event possible were under the following heads: General chairman—Eino Hakala; Housing—Jane Beers; Entertainment—Charles Dacey; Transportation—Bill Cove; Refreshments—Friscilla Beal.

Campus Chatter

Sam Twitchell says that divorce lawyers in Arizona should ring bells, ride bicycles, and be known as 'Good Yuma men'.

While on the subject of teeth, we see that 'Casanova' Phillips is sporting some new meat-grinders. He's breaking them in on hot dogs.

Don't tell us that 'Barrymore' Halfors is going Hollywood on us. Have you noticed the smoked cheaters hiding his sky-blue eyes?

Ode to a Vanished Soup-Strainer
Eighteen years is Valentine,

The years have come and gone;
Eighteen years is this lad

And we must weep and morn.
For on that fatal natal day

Something strange and wierd—
Joe borrowed someone's razor
And mowed down his beard.

Dedicated to the Senior Prom:
Many have tried, but few were chosen.

'Ohs!' and 'Ahs!':

A tall blonde male has been seen a lot with a slightly smaller brunette in the last few weeks—and they are in the same Sophomore division.

Seen and Heard at the Framingham Conference:

All the Fitchburg people, including yours truly, making fools of themselves trying to explain why they had no paper last week to people from colleges which have monthlies and bi-monthlies.

Many 'Ohs' and 'Ahs' were expressed over our 'Stick' pins.

President G. Roger Pauze received a "Birthday" song and replied with a speech in French

TRIANGLE DEBATE HELD OVER WSPR

The college Debating Club relinquished a part of their spring vacation period to represent the college in a triangle radio debate over station WSPR on last Friday evening, May 2, 1941. The debate was conducted at the Bay Path Auditorium in Springfield.

The subject for debate was "A Foreign Policy for the United States; Isolation, Continentalism or Union." Springfield College upheld the policy of Isolationism; Bay Path presented the side of Unionism while Fitchburg eloquently defended the policy of Continentalism. Raymond Farquhar of Fitchburg and Alfred Fuller of Hudson represented the college Debating Society. No decision was offered.

This new type of triangle debating is rapidly increasing in popularity in college debating circles, due to the fact that it enables the debaters to present three sides of the subject under discussion.

Canuck dialect, much to the confounding of a Framingham speech teacher. Poor enunciation, no doubt.

Bill Cove was shown the merits of "Tobacco Road" (equivalent of our own Rindge road) by a verra, 'verra cute Sophomore; but, aren't all Sophomores cute?

John Doakes Hoyer and Normie Pope were very interested in a dress rehearsal of a May Pageant. The Cultural Influence, no doubt.

Jane Beers was a very envied young woman. She came escorted by NINE males.

Next year will find Fitchburg the site of the fall meeting and we all look forward to a real conference. That is, if the naughty old draft doesn't blow us down.

WAR

*Oh dread monster, fiend incarnate,
Why stalkest thou again this weary earth?*

*Thou barbarous breeder of hate,
Satan's son accursed from birth,
Begone, leave off thine evil toil!
Leave to man his home and soil.*

*Saint and sinner feel your wrath!
Crown and yoke alike abhor you,
Thou wanton wrecker of happy hearth,
Death and Ruin alone adore you.
Drink not the dregs of deep desire
Nor make of the world a funeral pyre.*

*Murderer, whose power grows with age,
Imperishable ogre of abomination,
Send not thy silver birds of prey
On craven errands of annihilation.
Thou slayer of beauty, mercy, love,
Man can escape you only Above.*

*Art thou immortal, blackest one?
Man not yet has learned thy futility.
Is thy bloody business never done?
When scarred-earth seems rid of thee,
Why cometh back from shadowy shore
You, whom man had hoped to see no more?*

War, thou ever present scourge to man!

*Heart breaker, poisoner of peace
Ever lurking since time began,
Thy ravages will never cease
Until the burden of war becomes so great*

That jaded Earth then meets her fate.

—Doris Porter

PRINTERS EXPERIMENT WITH SILK SCREEN

Members of the advanced printing course have arranged a very colorful display of the silk screen process of printing. This display is located in one of the show windows in the Practical Arts Building.

The display shows several of the many ways this, the silk screen process printing may be used. Any number of colors can be used with this process. Another distinct advantage of this process of printing is that it can be used on all types of materials such as glass, paper, wood, metal, and cloth.

It is interesting to note that most of the equipment used in this process was constructed by the students.

From The C.M.E.B.

This year the college as a whole, and the commuting men especially, are losing a man who is irreplaceable.

Men like Joe Lalli are few and far between, even in much larger institutions than Fitchburg. What he has done for the commuting men has never been equalled—and probably never will be. His efficiency and his friendly manner will never be forgotten by those who knew him or had the opportunity to work with him.

His last great effort—our commuting men's picnic—was even more than typically successful, and for it we thank him and his committees, and especially 'Gal' and 'Blondi', who were so helpful.

We commuting men realize the great deal he has accomplished for us, and we will follow his example in the future, realizing that though he is gone, he is still with us in spirit. Our loss will be the profession's gain; he will there be better able to serve an entire school, instead of just one of its component parts.

Realizing that you will never need it, Joe, we wish you the best of luck in all your endeavors.

STRONG A.I.C. COMBINE BEATS FITCHBURG 13-0

With twelve men going down on strikes before the fast-ball pitching of Navak, the college baseball nine dropped its initial start to American International at Collidge Field, Tuesday, by a one-sided 13-0 count.

Only four teachers, Bejune, Konsavage, Philips, and Gemma, were able to solve the offerings of the Springfield fireballer for singles. Kitchen, the starting and losing pitcher, and his successor, Philips, were nicked for eleven singles.

Despite the size of the score, the team made a creditable showing against a team which has scored forty-four points in its last four games while holding its opposition scoreless.

'STICK' STAFF ATTENDS PRESS CONFERENCE

Eight members of the 'Stick' staff accompanied by Mr. Hague, attended the Spring conference of the Association of Massachusetts State Teachers College Publications. The conference was held at Framingham last Friday.

The feature of the program was a talk on newspaper work by Raymond Kierman of the 'Boston Traveler', News editor of the 'Traveler', Mr. Kierman told the delegates how a large metropolitan daily gets its news—foreign, domestic, and local. He defended journalism against current attacks, citing examples to show how fairly the papers present the news, faithfully as they find it.

At the business meeting Roger Pauze was elected president of the Association. Helene Hill and Jane Beers were elected corresponding and recording secretaries respectively.
